

“Videoplace” by Myron Kreuger

visitors find themselves faced with their own projected video image that can be changed by the computer program.

